REPRESENTATIVE ELECTION

At the recent trial to elect a third representative in this city, the regular Whig candidate failed of an election by only five votes, and at the time the several polls were closed there were at least twenty Whig voters on their way to the polls, and within a short distance. Had these men started in season, the people would not have been put to the trouble of attending the election notified to take place on Saturday next.

It is for living creditable to the Whig party in this city where they have strong a majority, that they will not turn out or one man and defeat their voice, no defenders of '41 - examples and measures. The divisions among the Whigs manifested at the recent elections, and the apathy among them, has at length given the highest courage to their opponents who are now engaged in arousing every loco in the city to be on hand next Saturday, and make a strong pull for their candidate. Out of eight or nine hundred votes cast, they think they may be able to throw a majority, and to accomplish this is now the darling object of the opposition. They will accomplish it unless the Whigs abandon their suicidal course of indifference and division. It is the duty of every Whig who cherishes genuine Whig principles, to remain true to the great cause with which he is identified and suffer neither the machinations of political foes, nor the influence of mistaken friends, to abate his devotion to the cause, nor his efforts to insure its triumph. Unless the Whigs are willing to lay aside an impracticable sympathy for men, and push forward for their principles unites the spirit of union gains the ascendancy over personal preferences, defeat and mortification will assuredly be the consequence.

We know the activity that prevails in the opposition camp we know the determination of the leaders and the hard work they are willing to perform to defeat the whigs at the next trial. We have given the warning, assuring our friends that every whig must attend the poll on Saturday next in order to secure the election of their candidate. Have we forgotten the glorious result of the union of the whigs the last year? Shall we madly abandon all our power to the unworthy feeling of indifference and dash from us all the fruits of continued union for a personal preference for men, or because we are temporarily disappointed in a single object? Shall the whigs of Bangor who have clung harmoniously together during the dark and troublous times of Sociofocism, and kept our city a green eden spot of whig principles shall they now give it up to the spoils men? Let us rouse up then and once more harmonize in action and by a general and thorough turn out secure the election of our candidate.

YOUNG MEN ATTEND

It should be recollect by our young men that an adjourned meeting of the Young Men's Temperance Association, is to be held at the City Hall, this evening. It is desirable that the meeting should be well attended not only by those who are members of the Association but by the young men of the city generally. We learn that several interesting questions are to be discussed by the members. The young men of Bangor can now, by means of their Association do much to promote the great cause of temperance, and make it instrumental in extending their acquaintance and in promoting social interests. There ought to be an eager desire to attend the meeting this evening and to sustain its interest and usefulness. Young men, one and all, rally to the meeting this evening.

The Springfield (Illinois) Journal of a late date says "The Secretary of War has written to Governor Carlin, informing him that the United States Government were about to forward to some point on Rock river, arms and ammunition, to be subject to order of the Governor, in case hostilities should commence between this country and the British and Indians."

Our proper representations respecting the arrest of Col. Groghan' near Alburgh, (Vt.) have already gone to Washington.

There is no manner of doubt that the Secretary of State will immediately lay these representations before Mr. Fox, the British Minister, and call upon him for an immediate disavowal and reparation of the jury.

We now learn that there is no foundation for the story of an attempt having been made to blow up the British government steamers, Mirris and Toronto, off Chippewa, nor for the report that a British steamer was discovered lying in Cleveland harbor, and fired into by Capt. Knapp, commanding a U. S. revenue cutter.

Eighteen millions of dollars have been invested in railroads, within the limits of Massachusetts, all of which, when finished, have paid beyond expenses, paying &c., an interest of six per cent. So says the Salem Gazette.

The Somerset Central Agricultural Society, will hold their annual Cattle Show and Fair, on the 19th day of October, October 19 and 20, at the Capital Meeting House in Bloomsbury.

The Bloomsbury due last evening had not arrived at 12 o'clock, the loss of putting our paper in press. The weather is windy and stormy.

A Practical Treatise on ARITHMETIC, wherein every principle taught is explained in a simple and obvious manner, containing numerous questions, and combining the useful properties of former works with the most improvements. Being a complete system. To which is added two methods of Book keeping, with examples for exercises. By George Leonard, Jr. Fifth edition, stereotyped Boston: Clow, Bradburn, & Co., 1841. pp. 340.

In the hasty progression of the present age in physical sciences, it is of the highest importance that mathematics upon which the whole of mechanical science is based should be understood and extensively circulated. It is a matter of rejoicing with us that the last few years have produced many valuable improvements in teaching mathematical science and by the publication of suitable text books embracing these improvements, their advantages have been widely felt, not only increasing the number of mathematicians, but furnishing an admirable discipline of the mind.

Among those works have contributed to this end, we think Mr. Leonard deserves to take a niche. His Arithmetic contains a great amount and variety of the practical elements of mathematical science, well calculated for a text book in school or for the private study of those who may wish to refresh their memories with the principles of their earlier and imperfectly understood lessons, or those who may wish to make up the want of education and advantages in their younger days. The practical business rules are clearly stated and fully illustrated.

The MUNICIPAL READER, designed for the use of Academies and Schools, and as a Monitor to young boys, holding up to their view models whereby to inform their own characters. By Samuel Adams, M. D., author of "Adams' new Arithmetic," &c. Concord, N. H. Roby, Kimball & Merrill, 1841.

The title of this work, which has been laid upon our table, fully explains its object. It requires closer attention than we can at present bestow upon the work, to decide upon its comparative merits with other books of a similar character, of which there are a many varieties. And, there is such a conflict of opinion among teachers in regard to reading books for schools that it is difficult to produce anything like uniformity in them. The spirit of speculation and profit too is so intimately connected with the publication of school books, that new ones will be continually appearing.

The one before us we should think worthy of examination of Teachers.

TO THE HON. S. R. HOBBIE,

Acting Postmaster General

SIR. - Information having been received in a form entitled to attention that the Postmasters at , Pennsylvania, and , Ohio, have so far violated the obligations which they impliedly assumed on taking office under my Administration, of abstaining from any active participation, or in any way connecting their offices with party purposes, I have to request that inquiries shall be instantly instituted into their conduct, and that if the charges against them be found to be true, they be immediately turned out of office and citizens appointed in their places who will otherwise conduct them selves.

The Post Office Department, in all its operations, should be conducted for the single purpose of accomplishing the important objects for which it was established. It should in an especial manner, as far as practicable, be disconnected from party politics. It was established for specif purposes of equal importance to every citizen to convert it into an engine of party for party purposes, to make it the chief source of the most alarming evils.

Hannibal as it is, and extended to every neighbor, the purity of its administration, and necessarily of its agents should be particularly guarded.

For a Deputy Postmaster to use his Franking privilege (a privilege bestowed upon him for the sole purpose of exalting him from oppressive charges in the necessary correspondence of his office) in scattering over the country pamphlets, newspapers, and proceedings to influence elections, is to outrage all propriety, and must not for a day be tolerated. Let this be left to the politicians. I should be happy if one or two examples might be found sufficient to convert an evil which has so extensively prevailed.

I will take this occasion, also, to add for your instruction, that the appointment to, and connivance in the office of Postmaster of any one editing a political newspaper is in the highest degree objectionable. It involves most of the consequences above stated, introduces politics into the Post Office, diminishes the revenue and confers privileges on one editor, which all cannot enjoy. In a word it is my fixed purpose, as far as in me lies, to separate the Post Office Department from politics, and bring about that reform which the country has so loudly demanded.

JOHN TYLER

September 28, 1841.

The excitement in relation to the McLedal affair by reason of the news from England had become quite calmed down, and that this vexed question seemed to wear a brighter appearance indeed the frequent givings out that he would probably be acquitted contributed much to allay any hostile feeling, within a day or two, however, fresh trouble has arisen, which may embarrass the Government. The abduction of an American citizen by an armed British force, if authorized by the British authorities, will cause new grounds of difficulty. The declaration made in the President's Message of a large body of men leagued to stir up a rebellion in the British provinces has surprised the public. It had not been supposed that any considerable number of persons mediated any aggression of this kind. The Proclamation of the President is firm and decided, and consonant with the universal sentiment of the people in this part of the State. The most vigorous measures ought to be adopted to bring the marauders to justice.

(N. Y. Express)

The Buffalo Advertiser states that an unusually large amount of Canada money is in circulation there. The Advertiser also tells us that the wharves and warehouses there continue to be crowded with merchandise going west while every returning vessel is filled to its utmost capacity with flour, grain and other produce, seeking the seaboard for a market. The receipt of flour is on the increase. There has been abundance of rain during the past week and if this extended over the west, the mills will be put in motion again, and we may expect a still larger quantity of flour. The wheat market west is generally on the decline.

The flour market is dull with rather a downward tendency. Corn is lower.

The City Council will meet this afternoon at two o'clock.

PROPHETIC OF TRUTH - A Speck of War. The following paragraph appears in the Westfield, Chautauque county Messenger of the 22d inst. If true, it will form another link in the chain of open questions between the United States and Great Britain. According even to the fair color which the Messenger gives to Capt. Knapp's conduct, it appears that his zeal for justice has discretion.

"We noticed recently, the visit of Captain Knapp of the revenue cutter, to this place. We understand that, while here, he received information that his presence was needed at Cleveland, whether he hastened with all despatch. On Monday of this week, the western stage brought the report, that on his arrival at Cleveland, Capt. in Knapp found the British war steam-engaged in taking soundings, and surveying the passage to the harbor. Captain Knapp hailed the steamer several times, receiving no reply, he fired a gun over the stern of the steamer, and another over her bow, hailing her after each discharge, but still receiving no answer. He then sent a bill right into her hull, when he was answered - not by a return-shout, as might have been expected, but by the application of steam to her engine and her immediate departure. This looks as if the British had an eye on Cleveland, in the case of war. The promptness and courage of Captain Knapp, on this occasion, mark him as an officer of the right stamp for efficient service and reward according to the belief we have heard expressed, that he is destined to be the second Hero of Lake Erie, if there shall be need for another. It should be remembered that the steamer is armed with English guns, a single shot from which might have blown the cutter sky high.

The above was intended for our paper of Saturday, and to day we have the intelligence that throws a doubt over the whole. All the recent war-like news proves worthless after the second day.

PROSPECTS AT WASHINGTON. We find the following Extract of a Letter from Washington in the Baltimore American.

Amidst the gloom in which at one moment threatened the dissolution of the Whig party, it is gratifying to know that brighter prospects now arise.

I am persuaded that we are yet to realize all the results anticipated from the glorious revolution accomplished by twelve years perseverance against the misrule of despotism and delusion of a majority of the Republic. The President admits that there is a virtual dissolution of the Union, for all commercial purposes, while exchanges are from one to ten per cent between the States comprising the Confederacy, and his mind is anxiously devoted to apply the corrective in any mode consistent with his constitutional acquirements.

The threatened outbreak on our borders, evinces the importance of Mr. Webster's being retained in the Cabinet. The confidence reposed in him, in which at one moment threatened the dissolution of the Whig party, it is gratifying to know that brighter prospects now arise.

The Grogan Case will not, after all, afford much chance for excitation. The Montreal Gazette says that if it be true that Grogan was kidnapped, the man of course, ought not to be retained in custody; and that it can be established by affidavits notwithstanding the high crimes of which true bill have been found against him in our criminal courts, no obstacle we presume will be offered to his surrender, to such American authorities as may take the proper steps for his release.

The Canada Times has a similar paragraph, from all which it would appear that the circumstances of Grogan's seizure, were not known in Montreal, at the time of his arrival there.

CONSUMPTION AND LIVER COM-PLAINT.

BALM OF LIVERWORT.

D. TAYLOR'S BALM OF LIVERWORT

has been used successfully for eight years in the Cure of these Diseases. Remember! the original and genuine is made ONLY at 375 Howes

New York. ALL others are spurious and unauthorized.

CONSUMPTION & LIVER COMPLAINT.

As a general remedy for these diseases, I am fully satisfied from long experience, there is no medicine equal to Dr. Taylor's Balm of Liver-wort. Being purely vegetable, it can be used with the utmost safety by all persons in every condition.

It cleanses the lungs by expectoration, relieves difficulty breathing, and heals the chest. There can be no question, "that this medicine is a real cure for chronic coughs and colds. I have used it for four years in my practice, and always with success.

A. F. RODGERS, M.D.

SPITTING OF BLOOD. This disease

consists of a discharge of blood, often frothy, from the mouth, brought up with winking and coughing,

and is usually accompanied with difficulty of breathing, and some pain in the chest. Sometimes it is preceded by an oppression at the chest, a dry tickling cough and slight shooting pains. This disease is always more or less dangerous. The great danger is that these symptoms may terminate

in consumption, and immediate remedies can alone

save this end. But Dr. Taylor's Balm of Liver-wort is a sure remedy, and to show its unparalleled

success, certificates of cures from 421 citizens,

and many physicians, will be published in a few days.

NERVOUS DISEASES AND WEAK-NESS. Dr. Taylor's Balm of Liverwort made at 375 Bowery, is assuredly an excellent remedy for these diseases. My wife has been more or less ill for ten years. She was extremely nervous and at times weak, so that she could not attend to her domestic duties. By the use of this medicine, her strength is wholly restored, and she is as healthy as I can wish her to be. My address is at Dr.

Taylor's office.

CURE OF CONSUMPTION. Mrs Martin, a worthy member of my congregation, was taken ill

some time since with a cold, pain in the breast and some difficulty of breathing, and in a few days

thereafter she had a violent cough and violent pain in the sides, which no medicine would relieve. She continued in this way for a long time under the medical care of Dr. Rea, but finally became consumptive, and was evidently near the end of her earthly sufferings, when her brother persuaded her to try Dr. Taylor's Balm of Liverwort. When she commenced this medicine it did not seem to agree with her for a few days, but by lessening the dose

she found it answered admirably, it relieved

her cough and her difficulty of breathing instantly, and we had the pleasure of witnessing her rapid recovery to health.
